H. H BLACK,
DENTIST,
(Late of the Cincinnati College of Dentists,)
Office and Labratory, No. 10, Alder street, Four Doors from Front, Portland, Ogn.

HAVING secured the services of Dr. C. H. MACK, formerly of New York city, and late of St. Louis, who is an experienced and skillful Dentist, I am now prepared to manufacture and Insert Artificial Teeth by the following methods, namely: GOLD, SILVER, RUBBER, AMBER, PORCELAIN BASE, GUM ENAMEL, RUBBER ATTACHMENT, CHEOLITE, CONTINUOUS GUM, MICA and ENAMELED PLATE WORK. Some kinds of this work is recommended above all others, and needs but an inspection to prove its superiority for cleanliness, durability and life-like appearance to any artificial teeth in use.

Filling and cleaning teeth, and all operations in Dental Surgery, either mechanical, operative or surgical, performed in the most thorough and highly finished manner. None but the most permanent and finished operations performed, and no inducements to patients by low priced or roughly finished operations. I use no cement in filling teeth, and seek in price to make no competition with cheap Dentists; and desire the patronage of such persons only as wish their operations performed in the most perfect and skillful manner.

Operations that fail to give satisfaction need not be taken or paid for. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. Indigent persons who are unable to pay full professional charges will call before and after office hours. nov4:tf

THE NEW COMMANDER.—Orpheus C. Kerr gives a description of the new commander of the Army of the Potomac, Gen. "Wobert Wobinson," more generally known as Gen. Burnside. It will be noticed that the General's fine horsemanship has attracted the attention of the humorist:

Noticing a circle of Mackerel Officers, a short distance in my rear, I dismounted from Pegasus, and walked thither for greater speed, discovering that the brilliant staff were admiring the great equestrian gambols of the new General of the Mackerel Brigade.

The new General is a dignified, middle-aged chap, my boy, with a face which expresses many whiskers, and an eye to look you through and through when your meaning is transparent. He is not quite two-yards high, has a head which looks like a lustrous apple-dumpling, dropped into the middle of a window-brush, and graduates downward into his boots, without seeming to be either growing out of them, or running through them. And he is none of your military popinjays, my boy, all plastered with buttons and gold lace, but an earnest, hard-working soldier. His dress for the field is characterized by genuine republican simplicity, and consists of hard-working corduroy breeches, sternly patched; and earnest pea-jacket, resolutely out at the elbows; a pair of straight-forward slippers, unflinchingly ragged around the toes, and an untrifling silk hat, determinedly mashed in at various points. You feel as you look at him, my boy, that he means hard work, and is indifferent to good clothes as long as he can save his distracted country. On the majestic brow of a true hero, my boy, a shocking bad hat is a far nobler, a more glittering crown, than the circle of filthy lucre which surmounts the head of Europe's bloated despot. Grander is the nightcap of a Washington, than any style of army cap I have yet seen. The new General was mounted upon a long-tailed cob, my boy, and his horsemanship thrilled this manly bosom with rapture. Did he wish to deliver an order to his aid, he but slightly tightened the reins of his horse, and at once the noble animal arose to his hind-legs and fired off a pistol held for him by an orderly. Did he wish to go the rounds, he but touched the left flank of his horse, and straightway the sagacious charger struck into a graceful waltz, leaping over five-barred gates as he went along, and dashing through hoops held aloft by the troops. Did he desire to approach one of his Generals for consultation, he had but to give a low whistle, and forthwith the intelligent animal limped about on three feet, as though lame, and drank a bottle of wine presented to him by an orderly. Did he have an inclination to review his troops, he was compelled only to gently pinch his horse's neck, and at once the grateful beast laid down upon his side and pretended to die as naturally as any human being.

In short, my boy, it is argued from the earnest new General's bad clothes, that he will speedily bring the war to a good close; and from his being such a particular horseman, that he will never become any party's footman.

IS ENGLAND AFRAID?—In speaking of the refusal of the English to join the French in mediating in our civil war, the organ of the Empress, La France, of November, 14th, says:

Public opinion, unconvinced by the pretexts put forward by England, will most certainly ascribe to other reasons and to hidden motives her inexplicable refusal. Does she wish to behold the exhaustion of both combatants, the miserable death in the convulsions of civil war of a rival the greatness of which has always caused her such great alarm.

Is she afraid of exasperating, by a more peaceful counsel, the ultras who gravitate round Mr. Lincoln, and does she dread for Canada the resentment of thorough-going Unionists?

Once more, is John Bull afraid of Brother Jonathan?

Does England prefer a policy of isolation to acting in common with France and Russia, and is she desirous of taking this opportunity to unloosen the bonds, which for a long time past have united her policy with that of France on various points of the globe?

All these questions which the public raise will, no doubt, remain unanswered; but is it not to be regretted for the sake of England that they should be raised?

We have been happy to bear witness to the good understanding of these two great nations of Western Europe in the various incidents of foreign policy. We have applauded it in China, in the East, wherever their combined efforts sought to promote the cause of freedom and civilization. Why must that understanding be weakened in America, in a crisis which involves the existence of a great people and the prosperity of the whole world?

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag,—the Red White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true
Arise and defend it, ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner our [illegible] must save

WEDNESDAY MORNING JAN 21 1863

THE SANITARY FUND.—Dr B Bellows says that $373 470 out of a total contribution to the Sanitary Fund of $566 204 has been given by the Pacific States and Washington Territory. This makes our contributions more than two thirds of all that has been given and if the other States had given in like proportion not less than $9,000,000 would have been placed at the disposition of this noble Commission But instead of that the Americans East have been indulging in the miserable vanity of sending assistance to the operatives in Lancashire. This some of the Eastern press call "heaping coals of fire on the heads of the British." We are of the opinion that the British feel very much like Sam Weller did when a man told him that he had been ruined by having a fortune left him Says Sam, in reply - "I wish some wicked enemy of mine would try to work my destruction by leaving me a fortune" So it is with John Bull, you may heap just as many coals on his head, by feeding his poor operatives, as you wish, and he will hate you none the less for it No more will it produce any agony of body or of mind Like our misguided Southern brethren he is wrapped up in his own impervious self conceit

GOLD IN PAYMENT.—All the gold received on the Pacific coast, for duties as well as direct taxes, by the United States officials, is paid out here This amounts, in all, to about $3,000,000. Nearly as much more is paid in Treasury Notes. Mr Cheeseman, (how some people must tremble at that name) says that it is the bounden duty of State officers to pay over gold where they collect it

WRECK.—The clipper ship, F W Bailey, was wrecked at Lobos Point, at the north side of the entrance of the Golden Gate, on the night of the 8th of January She was bound for Puget Sound from San Francisco Her Captain, Dyer, and seven others, out of seventeen persons aboard, were lost. She belonged to C. Cushing & Co.

FLORENCE MINES.—The weather at Florence on the 7th of January, was mild The snow was about two feet deep on an average, and but little mining work was doing The morals of the place were improving Our correspondent at that place says that "Cherokee Bob" and his mate hunted industriously for a fight, and at last found it There are about eight hundred men in the district, who are all well provided with supplies

U. S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY.—E L McGraw, Esq., of this city, has been appointed United States District Attorney for the District of Oregon.

News from the British Possessions and the North-West.

We have files of Victoria papers to the 15th inst., from which we make up our summary of news:

The steamship Robert Lowe had arrived from England Among her passengers were forty English girls On the occasion of their landing, a crowd of blackguards were gathered at the wharf and saluted them with a volley of filthy language. Just such fellows as these would have received severe chastisement by the American "Mob," which the English despise.

It is estimated that the bodies of from 1,000 to 1,200 Northern Indians, who have fallen victims to the small pox, lie unburied in the space of about one acre of ground a little to the west of the reserve and a stone's throw from the school house Few persons can form any conception of the fearful ravages caused by the disease in this vicinity When it first appeared among the Indians large numbers started in canoes for their homes in the north but full one-fourth of their number died on the way, and their bodies lie at the present day on the Island coast from Victoria to Fort Rupert, and on the mainland of British Columbia from Deane's canal to the mouth of Stickeen river We well remember several warm days last summer when the deaths at the reserve averaged one an hour. The sad fate of about eighty poor wretches who, driven from the reserve by the police, encamped at Ogden's Point, and in one week's time only thirteen were left to tell the tale, has not yet been forgotten A like fate befell sixty who were encamped at Cadboro Bay The Songish and other tribes, native to this Island enjoyed a singular immunity from the disease, an immunity which was due in the main to the sanitary measures adopted by the Catholic missionaries before the plague came The Northerners were vaccinated also, but not until after the disease had appeared among them, Somehow or another, the vaccine generally did not "take," the tribes seemed doomed to destruction, and in place of an Indian population of 2,500 souls—as we had last spring on the reserve, it would, to day, be really hard work to scare up fifty men women and children, and out of nearly 300 huts, tents and lodges, but ten were visible yesterday.—Chronicle, 11th inst

The Chronicle's news summary to the 14th, from British Columbia, is as follows

The ice and snow have made their appearance upon the Lower Fraser and the weather is mild.

From the Harrison-Lillooet route we learn that the snow was disappearing Tenas Lake was frozen over but packing continued uninterrupted Business fair Stocks full.

The Fraser, two miles and a half above Lillooet, at a locality known as French Bar, is frozen over, but the weather was moderating when our informant left Sleighs were running over the wagon road A party from Williams Lake arrived at Lillooet on the 8th They report the sleighing good and snow about one foot deep.

All the animals at the ranches are living finely The packing season it is believed will open at least a month earlier this year than last

Letter from Boise River

PLACERVILLE, BOISE RIVER MINES, }
December 25th 1862 }

EDITOR OREGONIAN

Your readers will no doubt be surprised to find that after expressing my opinion in such a decided manner against the richness and extent of these mines I have again been tempted to try fickle dame Fortune and run my chances of receiving a share of her smiles in this far off region But it is a [illegible] did confession is good for the soul, I [illegible] as well here state [illegible] with [illegible] that the mines [illegible] all wrong [illegible] have erred and will continue [illegible] as the world lasts After my [illegible] Grimes Creek some prospectors turned their faces westward, and in about six miles from our old camp, struck rich diggings, some of whom are now realizing as high as $100 and even $200 per day with a rocker These claims are what are termed dry gulch claims being little gulches running in every direction from the hill sides and debouching either into creeks or what is termed "wet gulches"— To what extent these wet gulches and creeks will pay is yet an unsolved problem but the supposition is that they will pay well [illegible] creek, being situated on the western border of the basin has been prospected in [illegible] claims and the result has demonstrated its richness Fifteen dollars is the largest prospect I have yet heard of in that region which I consider an exception I saw $24 which was washed out of 100 buckets of dirt on that creek, which I consider the maximum prospect of that region This gold is very beautiful, being middling coarse and [illegible] for I have no doubt but it will command at least $17 per ounce The real extent of these mines is at present unknown So far, there are paying creeks for fifteen miles east and west, and at least seven miles north and south I do not wish to be understood as saying that the whole extent between these points is auriferous enough to pay for working, although the color is to be found everywhere and in many places extra rich claims are located — This camp, in my opinion, will yield ten times the amount of gold which Salmon did, and will employ more men, as there is ground enough to give every man a chance to make at least $5 or $6 per day Myself and partner have a dry gulch claim from which we wheel dirt to water and wash with a rocker, and which, even with this disadvantage yields from ten to twenty dollars per day to the hand If this same dirt could be sluiced at this season, we would make at least fifty dollars a day to the hand So much for our prospects in this country; but I would warn all who are comfortable at home to remain there. The adage, "all is not gold that glitters," is but too often realized by those who hunt after gold I myself am now on the hunt every day for richer diggings than I have got, and many is the hole I sink getting 'nix' for my trouble The ground is now frozen, and on it, according to location, there lies from eight inches to two feet of snow, so that you see it is no child's play to travel around over hill and dale, let alone work with your pick and shovel

As you see by the date of this letter, it is Christmas day, and here we are 500 miles East of our homes, cooped up in little cramped up cabins, without books to read or any thing to engage our thoughts and attention unless it may be to think of the pleasures and gayeties of those who, surrounded by friends and family in the midst of civilization, are enjoying themselves in a rational manner — The prattle of little children, joyous over the good things which Santa Claus is about to bring them, is not heard here All is the hard reality of life Over our fire place my boots hang, and in them no jovial friend has deposited a gift for me Sombre thoughts fill our minds, at times, and many are the heart longings for a sight of former friends and places But so it is, one portion of the world must undergo hardships to keep the balance in ease. Portland is destined to reap a rich harvest from the wealth of this Northern country for years to come, she has the means and I think the men to more than compete with any opposition which may be attempted from the Salt Lake region. If [illegible] proves navigable to the mouth of Boise the feasibility of which I have no doubt, a great feat will have been accomplished and one which the miners are deeply interested in — Provisions are far too high in the upper country, and should be brought down at least fifty per cent Flour is from $45 to $50 per hundred, beans, coffee and sugar are worth $1 per pound, tobacco, $5 to $10 salt, $1, and other things in proportion I saw a half ream of foolscap, worth in Portland $1 50, sold for $15, and that by a Portlander too This man's conscience, you will agree with me must be elastic as rubber

Wm. McMillen and J Cleaver of Portland are here in business many others from the valley are here mining driving ox teams and doing whatever will make them an honest dollar Success to them say I Yours

WALLA WALLA NEWS.—The Statesman of the 10th inst, furnishes us the following

John Gavney, who was so badly stabbed at Walla Walla, died of his wounds on the 3d inst

The men suspected of murdering Mr Chase, have been discharged

The news from Boise still continues highly favorable We have conversed with a number of gentlemen who came in from there during the week, and without particularizing we feel assured from their statements that the reports heretofore published in relation to the richness of these mines have not been exaggerated Two gentlemen who came in on Thursday, for supplies, express the opinion that these mines are far superior to any ever discovered north of California, and equal to the best of that State There are no claims there that pay so well as a few of those at Florence did last fall but the diggings are far more extensive Some few claims have paid as high as $100 per day, but the average yield is from $16 to $20, with a prospect of long continuance In some localities water is not convenient—miners being compelled to carry their dirt long distances, but in most of the camps now worked there is no scarcity of water These gentlemen state that they would not advise any one to go to these mines this winter, unless they can go well furnished with supplies A letter from there also states that if there is much more of a rush to that locality the starvation scenes of last winter at Florence will be reproduced The road continues in fair traveling condition except on the summit of the Blue Mountains and on the mountains between Grand Ronde and Auburn The weather is not so cold at Boise as at Florence though but little can now be done in the way of mining

SMALL POX.—We call the attention of our readers and the authorities to the danger of the small pox being communicated to the inhabitants of this country, from the infected district covering nearly the whole of the British Possessions in the North west. It is quite fortunate that the steamers run from this place to Victoria, and from thence to San Francisco, without again calling here If there should be direct communication from Victoria here, we should apprehend the very worst consequences Quarantine would have to be established to prevent its spread, and even that would be but a doubtful security Vaccination is the only safe guard, and we recommend to all who are not vaccinated to have it done at once. In the neighboring Colonies it was not tried until the disease had spread to an alarming extent, and then it failed to "take" in many instances It may require frequent vaccinations to produce the desired effect, and for that reason it is best to commence in time From our Victoria news it will be seen that as high as 1,200 Indians lie unburied in the vicinity of that place on a single acre of ground. The disease has assumed an uncommon virulence in the North west, which it appears is the case when the disease is given by a colored race to the whites and has not yet, in any case, assumed that mild type which indicates that its force nearly spent—Forewarned should be forearmed in this matter.

DEAD DRUNK.—Robert Parris was brought into the Recorder's Court day before yesterday, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. It appears that Parris was found by Marshal Grooms lying drunk in the street, on the 19th of January, and by so doing he was guilty of a violation of City Ordinance No 10 He was fined $5 and costs, or sentenced to three days in the city jail, not having the money he went to jail

NOBODY HURT.—John Smears came before the Recorder on the 19th of January, and swore that Andrew Hunter had conducted himself in a violent and disorderly manner by beating him, Smears, on the 12th of January. The City Marshal hunted up Hunter and arraigned him before the Court. Upon examination it was found that Smears had laid it on pretty thick, and Hunter was discharged and Smears ordered to pay cost

LEGAL TENDER NOTES.—We change our quotation of Legal Tender Notes to 83 cents, which is the San Francisco quotation of the 11th inst., as contained in our telegrams We recommend an adherence to these quotations in commercial transactions as the only means of preventing unfounded panic, which is uncalled for and sure to be injurious to all

CAUGHT.—Clifton, the horse thief, who lately escaped from Dalles jail, has been caught. Tom Taylor, the murderer, is still at large. Three hundred dollars are offered by the Sheriff of Wasco for his arrest.

VALUE OF ADVERTISING.—We noticed while in San Francisco, a few days ago, the old and well known Clothing Firm of Heuston, Hastings & Co., were extending their borders They have now an establishment that cannot be beat in New York City. their trade is immense; supposed to exceed that of any three similar establishments in the State.

Night Sweats and Spitting of Blood.—Among the numerous advertised medicines for these complaints, none can be found so efficacious as DR. WM HALL'S BALSAM It subdues the irritation, stops the sweating, and restores the strength, in a very short space of time. It is well worth your trial

REDINGTON & CO.,
General Agents for the Pacific Coast,
416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco.

STORAGE.—THE FIRE-PROOF STONE WAREHOUSE, opposite the [illegible]lla House, is the only building "not made of wood," at the Dalles, where goods are taken on STORAGE All other houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings and in exposed parts of the town, liable to the risk of fire. The subscriber assures his patrons that his charges are but $1 50 per ton per month storage and although storage in wooden buildings is $1 00 per ton, yet the public will fail to perceive the advantages the subscriber possesses over other warehouses of this place

Coughs. The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice See advertisement. dec16daw3m

White's Fever and Agu Drops—For the cure of AGUE, PANAMA FEVER, NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success Indeed in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure, in Ague especially, one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases and in none are more than two bottles required

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements, but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone A cure is guaranteed in nine cases out of ten.

The Eye and Ear Diseases.

It must not be forgotten by the eye and ear sufferers that Dr Van Zandt has made these afflictions an especial study and that he is the only Surgeon in our State who has a diploma for that branch of practice Very many of the eye and ear troubles are purely deranged nervous action and are cured by his electro-galvanic battery—as amaurosis squinting, cataract, floating specks before the vision twitching of the eyelids nervous deafness, roaring and buzzing noises in the ears giddiness, etc. All operations successfully done on those delicate organs of sense

SMALL POX.—We call the attention of our readers and the authorities to the danger of the small pox being communicated to the inhabitants of this country, from the infected district covering nearly the whole of the British Possessions in the North west. It is quite fortunate that the steamers run from this place to Victoria, and from thence to San Francisco, without again calling here. If there should be direct communication from Victoria here, we should apprehend the very worst consequences. Quarantine would have to be established to prevent its spread, and even that would be but a doubtful security. Vaccination is the only safe guard, and we recommend to all who are not vaccinated to have it done at once. In the neighboring Colonies it was not tried until the disease had spread to an alarming extent, and then it failed to "take" in many instances. It may require frequent vaccinations to produce the desired effect, and for that reason it is best to commence in time. From our Victoria news it will be seen that as high as 1,200 Indians lie unburied in the vicinity of that place on a single acre of ground. The disease has assumed an uncommon virulence in the North west which it appears is the case when the disease is given by a colored race to the whites, and has not yet in any case, assumed that mild type which indicates that its force nearly spent.—Forewarned should be forearmed in this matter.

DEAD DRUNK.—Robert Parris was brought into the Recorder's Court day before yesterday, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. It appears that Parris was found by Marshal Grooms lying drunk in the street on the 19th of January, and by so doing he was guilty of a violation of City Ordinance No 10. He was fined $5 and costs, or sentenced to three days in the city jail, not having the money he went to jail.

NOBODY HURT.—John Smears came before the Recorder on the 19th of January, and swore that Andrew Hunter had conducted himself in a violent and disorderly manner by beating him, Smears, on the 12th of Jan. The City Marshal hunted up Hunter and arraigned him before the Court. Upon examination it was found that Smears had laid it on pretty thick, and Hunter was discharged and Smears ordered to pay cost.

LEGAL TENDER NOTES.—We change our quotation of Legal Tender Notes to 83 cents, which is the San Francisco quotation of the 19th inst., as contained in our telegrams. We recommend an adherence to these quotations in commercial transactions as the only means of preventing unfounded panic, which is uncalled for and sure to be injurious to all.

CAUGHT.—Clifton, the horse thief, who escaped from Dalles jail, has been caught. Tom Taylor, the murderer, is still at large. Three hundred dollars are offered by the Sheriff of Wasco for his arrest.

RESULT OF ADVERTISING.—We noticed while in San Francisco, a few days ago, the old and well known Clothing Firm of Heuston, Hastings & Co., were extending their borders. They have now an establishment that cannot be beat in New York City. Their trade is immense; supposed to exceed that of any three similar establishments in the State.

White's Fever and Ague Drops—For the cure of AGUE, PANAMA FEVER, NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY.

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success. Indeed, in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure, in Ague especially one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases and in none are more than two bottles required.

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements, but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone. A cure is guaranteed in nine cases out of ten.

Dr Van Zandt with his new method of exciting the Electro-galvanic current together with his remedial measures which are adapted to the necessities of California will assure you of a complete and [illegible] recovery of all bodily and mental infirmities and will restore you to usefulness, and spare you a blessing to your family and society.

All the world over wherever disease exists whether specific to the soil and climate [illegible] to all regions—[illegible] or casual acute or chronic contagious or non-contagious—it is as necessary to restore the ELECTRO-GALVANIC equilibrium especially in California [illegible] to the starving. This [illegible] is based upon a series of facts [illegible] through many years, and verified by hundreds of patients so that no principle of science no rule of experience, no result of any well known cause, rests upon more sure and unassailable foundations, than those which underlie the world-wide reputation of Electricity for the cure of all nervous states of the body, faulty digestion, mental and physical debility or prostration, coughs, asthma, wandering pains of a rheumatic, gouty or mercurial character and all forms of disease, the result of scrofula or cachetic habit of body.

[illegible] his great success and the safety with which he administers his new method of electrical excitation together with his remedies which are adapted to the requirements of climate and constitution will assure you of a complete and radical removal of all bodily and mental infirmities, within the scope of science and man to remove.

The Eye and Ear Diseases.

It must not be forgotten by the eye and ear sufferers that Dr Van Zandt has made these afflictions an especial study and that he is the only Surgeon in our State who has a diploma for that branch of practice. Very many of the eye and ear troubles are purely deranged nervous action and are cured by his electro-galvanic battery—as amaurosis, squinting, cataract, floating specks before the vision, twitching of the eyelids, nervous deafness, roaring and buzzing noises in the ears, giddiness, etc. All operations successfully done on those delicate organs of sense.

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases. If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night, it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhoea, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea. It will take out all the [illegible] and heal the sore in a short time.

Thinning of Fruits

One lesson which experience has taught us, is the importance of thinning the fruit, especially of apples and pears This branch of Pomology has received comparatively but little attention There is a limit to the capabilities of all created things If you tax the energies of an animal too severely for a long time, the result will be premature age and decay. Subject any vegetable or mineral substance to too great pressure and you destroy its power of cohesion So if you permit a tree to bear beyond its strength you injure its fruit, retard its growth, and shorten its life All have observed that superfecundity one year produces barrenness the next Hence we hear among our farmers and gardeners of what they term the bearing year They invariably designate the Baldwin apple as a tree that bears on alternate years But is not the cause of this alternation found in the fact, that the abundant crop of the bearing year exhausts the energies of the tree, and absorbs the pabulum so as not to leave sufficient aliment for the formation of the fruit spurs for the succeeding year? Many varieties have a tendency to overbearing, especially those which produce their fruit in clusters Nature herself teaches us the remedy for this evil, and a superabundance of blossom is generally followed by a profuse falling of the embryo fruits When and where this dropping is not sufficient to prevent overbearing, we should resort to the process of relieving the tree of a portion of its fruit

The organism which carries on healthful development, in order to repeat its cycle of functions from year to year, cannot be overworked without time for recuperation Whatever of nutrition goes to the support of useless branches, or a redundancy of fruit, abstracts that strength from the tree which would otherwise be appropriated to the perfection of the crop and the development of the spurs which would bear fruit the next year One of the best cultivators in the vicinity of Boston has reduced this theory to practice, with the happiest effect, in the culture of the pear His system allows no useless wood, nor more fruit spurs, and no more fruit, than the tree can properly sustain. As a consequence, he produces every year superior fruit, which commands the highest price Some have doubted whether this practice can be made remunerative, except in its application to the finer fruits But another cultivator, who raises an annual crop of the best apples, assures us that the secret of his success is the thinning of the fruit, and he has no doubt of the economy of the practice No good farmer doubts the necessity of thinning his root crops no vigneron the propriety of thinning his grapes Analogy of cultivation, therefore, justifies the practice and I entertain no question of its importance.

Light, air, and moisture are essential to the production of vegetable products, and especially of fine fruits Who has not observed that the finest specimens of fruit on a tree are ordinarily those which are most exposed to these elements? Who does not select the full sized ruddy fruit which has had free communion with light, heat, and air, in preference to the half fed specimen which has shared its own proper nourishment with five or six crowded rivals on the same spur?

An experienced English cultivator says "The bending of branches of trees by an over crop of fruit is most injurious, for the pores of the woody stalk are strained on the outside of the bend, and compressed on the other, hence the vessels through which the requisite nourishment flows being partially shut up, the growth of the fruit is retarded in proportion to the straining and compression of the stalk" This is illustrated in the overbearing of some varieties which, from a redundancy of fruit, without the process of early and thorough thinning, seldom produce good specimens, and in a few years become stinted and unhealthy trees. The overbearing of a tree is as much a tax upon its energies and constitution, as is the exhaustion of a field by excessive crops of the same kind, year after year, without a return of nutritive materials Inexhaustible fertility is a chimera of the imagination Sooner or later, the richest soils will require a restoration of what has been abstracted by vegetation However fertile at first, the constant overcropping of the soil is a reduction of the elements on which health and fruitfulness depend This great principle of sustenance and reciprocal relation runs through the whole mass of life, of mind, and of matter

"One cry with never ceasing sound
Circles Creation's ample round

Intimately connected with this process so thinning, is the time when the work should be executed It should not be done before we can distinguish the choicest specimens in a cluster of fruit, nor delayed so long as to waste the energies of the tree. This practice, judiciously followed, will supercede the necessity of staying up the branches, will prevent injury to the tree by their breaking, and will prove decidedly economical

Associated with the thinning of fruits is the expediency of gathering a part of the crop as soon as it approaches maturity—The remaining specimens will thereby be much increased in size and ex[illegible]—The fruit of a tree does not all come to maturity at the same time hence this necessity of gathering will turn the crop to the highest practical account and will keep the productive energies of the tree in a healthful and profitable condition

Does some one say leave all this to Nature and not attempt to mend the ways of Providence? But was not man ordained to help Nature and placed in the [illegible] to dress and keep it? True [illegible] has enacted general laws, but requires us to turn them to the highest practical account [illegible] has given us in fruits and flowers [illegible] beauty and loveliness and has [illegible] us the duty of bringing them [illegible] est possible perfection [illegible] by [illegible] operation with Nature in which we may esteem little things, that the highest achievements in science are reached and the most valuable results attained The ocean is but the accumulation of drops, and the mountain is but the rolling up of pebbles From the slender spur that trembles beneath the weight of the dew drop to the lofty monarch of the forest whose hoary branches waved in the breeze a thousand years before the birth of the Christian era we have signal proof of the law of mutual dependence

Fruit trees will not take care of themselves Constant vigilance is the price of superior trees or superior fruit The poet may sing of the

[illegible] redundant growth
Of vines and maize and flower and brake
Which Nature kindly [illegible]
And scarce solicited by human toil
Pours from the riches of the teeming so[illegible]

but the cultivator of fruits must realize the fact, that without care and skill he can not depend on uniform and continued success — Wilder

The Garden

We believe there is no better index of the farmer than his garden Where you find pains and attention given to the garden you are very apt to find the same true of the farm Too many farmers pay too slight attention to this part of the farm It should, if anything, require their best attention Many seem to deem it as rather trivial. They will use their utmost exertions in raising large crops of grain, and in their rush of business can find no leisure to do any garden work But they are not the gainers Their table, although they may boast of their thousands of bushels of grain cannot compare with that of their less ambitious neighbor who reserves a portion of his time and attention to the cultivation of a garden and who can consequently have all of its delicacies and in their due season There is no other portion of the farm where labor will pay so richly as in the cultivation of those choice vegetables that add so greatly to the attractions of the farmer's table That family is to be pitied that deny themselves of the incalculable pleasure which they might enjoy if they but bestowed a few hours each day to the cultivation of a garden

☞ Mr Strong informs us that it is his opinion that only a part of the wire lost on the "Noonday" was for the Oregon Telegraph He will immediately order sufficient to supply the deficiency, and complete the line as soon as possible All the other materials for this line, including insulators, instruments, batteries, and submarine cable for the Columbia River, have arrived Mr S expects to complete the line from Portland to Eugene City, and to Vancouver the present winter
